The Partnership for Supplementary Schools provides...

Information about supplementary schools in Kensington and Chelsea for parents and teachers

Advice and guidance, training and a library of teaching materials for supplementary school managers, tutors and volunteers

Quality assurance and representation on Borough committees for community groups that run supplementary schools

Sports, arts, cultural and educational activities; GCSE and A level revision workshops; classes in English, IT and family learning for the families who attend supplementary schools

If we give children confidence in themselves through knowledge of their language, culture and history, we give society a mature, ethically responsible citizen.

After School & Saturday Classes for children aged 5-19

Supplementary Schools are run by parents to give their children:

Knowledge of their home language, history and culture
Help with their schoolwork and homework
Opportunities for sport and leisure

Supplementary Schools in Kensington & Chelsea

Volunteers who run supplementary schools are usually parents who work, study, or look after their children so phones may not be attended during working hours. The best way to register with a group is to visit it while it is in session. If you have any difficulty in getting in touch with a supplementary school, contact: The Education Administration Assistant on 020 8962 5720
